

Dromos is winner of Zenbic CAM Scale-Up

The Zenbic Connected and Automated Mobility Scale Up programme is set up to accelerate delivery to market, build partnerships, attract investments, and deliver products to the market better, and faster.

Dromos is proud to announce winning the 2022 competition of this great and future oriented programme. Over the course of the next six months, we will work together with the UK-based testbeds Millbrook, Culham, and Smart Mobility Living Lab London to conduct testing, particularly in terms of interoperability, and system enhancement activities at the interface between our traffic flow management software Drom.OS and various autonomous vehicles.
